

Hematopoietic Progenitor Assays Using Fresh Cord Blood

The Fresh Cord Blood program is offered once a year. Participants are provided with fresh human cord blood cells,* MethoCult™ H4034 Optimum, and all reagents and supplies required for the CFU assay. STEMCELL Technologies collects data on cell preparation and colony enumeration and provides a comprehensive report to each participant. This program is available in certain territories in North America only. For more information, please contact your local Sales representative or proficiency@stemcell.com.
